I full-heartedly support this capital campaign. I know Alzheimer's is devastating. I'm impressed by what Abe's Garden Community is doing to help those affected ~ especially the way they use music to engage residents and community group participants. More and more people I know are looking for support as they slowly lose people they love and Abe's Garden Community offers that support."

When things were at their worst and Dick sometimes didn't know who I was, I knew that I could no longer manage on my own. It was the hardest thing I've ever done to decide to move him to Abe's. I didn't want his life diminished or for him to feel unloved. My concern was unfounded. He was cared for by so many people who loved him, and his life improved from the days when he just sat in his chair at home and stared outside. It is hard now to tell people about how wonderful Abe's is, knowing that there is a long waiting list for their loved one. This campaign is a godsend for all those people waiting and hoping for a place where they can get support both for themselves and for the person they love. ~ Virginia Lodge
